Location, Location, Location

Transit advertising provides access to the most locations in the City of Grande Prairie. Routes serve residential, commercial, industrial, educational, health care and other essential service areas. Mini billboards on benches create consistency in specified locations while moving billboards and posters on the exterior of buses provides exposure across transit service locations.

Captive Audiences

Transit riders have prolonged exposure to advertising on benches, shelters and on bus interiors.

Reach

High traffic counts provide exterior ads high exposure to thousands of local and visiting drivers daily. City transit serves most neighbourhoods, industrial parks and shopping areas using primary and secondary road networks. Advertising with Transit reaches all ages, interests, and professions.

Frequency

Duplicating or creating a series of advertising messages in a targeted location with prolonged exposure, or on multiple buses serving more routes and riders, creates familiarity for audiences through repetition.

Brand Alignment

Advertising options that align with core values such as accessibility, environmental responsibility, essential community services and youth.
