COMMUNITY SAFETY AND SUPPORTS

BUILDING FOR ALL

Our vibrant community thrives because we are focused on supporting all of our residents. We do this through investing in a number of community safety and support initiatives to ensure everyone has what they need to live a full life.

Here are a number of resources we have in place for an inclusive, caring and safe community.

MUNICIPAL POLICE

Grande Prairie is transitioning to a municipal police service, establishing the Grande Prairie Police Service to provide locally responsive policing with community oversight, ensuring the safety and vibrancy of our city both now and in the future. Looking ahead, building a police service from the ground up creates opportunity for innovation in policing, particularly around modern policing and enhanced community benefits specific to the needs of Grande Prairie residents and business owners.

MOBILE OUTREACH

The City of Grande Prairie's Mobile Outreach is a diversion program focused on mitigating the impacts of street-level social disorder, addiction and public intoxication. The program assists businesses and residents in handling their concerns related to the street-engaged population. Concerns may include trespassing, loitering, disturbances, public intoxication, needle debris and encampments.

Mobile Outreach is intended to provide immediate support for a client's basic needs and navigation through local service systems such as emergency shelters, health care, addiction treatment and housing.

AGENT PROGRAM

Introduced to the City in 2018 for business owners, the program gives bylaw officers, peace officers and police officers additional powers to enforce the Trespass to Premises Act and Petty Trespass Act on private properties.

HOUSING AND HOMELESSNESS INITIATIVES

Our Homeless Initiative works to end homelessness by partnering with community agencies to provide housing supports and move people out of shelters and into homes. They support a spectrum of housing from emergency supports and shelters to supportive housing, affordable housing and more.

FAMILY AND COMMUNITY SUPPORT SERVICES

The City of Grande Prairie works in partnership with the Government of Alberta to support jointly funded preventive social services for Albertans through the Family and Community Support Services (FCSS) program. The province contributes 80% of the cost of operating a local program while the City contributes a minimum of 20%. This unique provincial partnership leverages municipal funds to greatly amplify their impact at the local community level through funding local organizations and agencies focused on preventative social supports.

YOUTH ADVISORY COUNCIL

The Youth Advisory Council (YAC) is a group of local youth who meet to discuss current issues in Grande Prairie. YAC connects with City Council, city departments and committees and local agencies to engage, learn and collaborate.

Grande Prairie's YAC is open to youth ages 14 to 24. Members are a mix of high school students, college students and young professionals seeking to make a positive impact on the community through awareness, advocacy and representation.

RECREATION ACCESS PROGRAM

The Recreation Access Program helps ensure all residents have access to leisure, recreation and fitness opportunities. We value providing socially inclusive programs to each individual and family in Grande Prairie. Providing this program to eligible participants removes financial barriers while enhancing community and family connectedness.

The program offers a 75% subsidy on applicable memberships, punch passes and registered programs to approved applicants at participating facilities including Eastlink Centre, Design Works Centre, Activity and Reception Centre, Dave Barr Community Centre, Muskoseepi Park and the Grande Prairie Museum.

TRANSIT ACCESS PROGRAM

The Transit Access Program offers a 50% subsidy on the monthly Grande Prairie Transit SUPERPASS to qualifying applicants to help them stay connected to the community. The SUPERPASS is a re-loadable electronic smart card used to pay your bus fare. To be eligible, applicants' income must not exceed the Low-Income Cut-Off level determined by Statistics Canada +30%.

Applications to access the program can be completed year-round. Proof of address, household income and documentation for dependent children are all required for the application.

HOME SUPPORT

The Home Support Program is for families and individuals experiencing disruptions to normal family routine making it difficult to maintain and manage a healthy home. Services may include basic light housekeeping, scheduled transportation, short term respite care, companionship and meal preparation and storage. Fees are based on the client's monthly household income with subsidies available.

COMMUNITY COMPASS

The Community Compass provides coordinated access to social supports by tying together hundreds of independent social services and programs in Grande Prairie into a coordinated system to streamline access to community support for residents. It is designed to better connect residents with the appropriate services they need in a more efficient, effective and accessible way.

Benefits include easier access to help, more accurate and timely referrals, improved coordination of support and better use of resources.

The project is a partnership between the City of Grande Prairie, the County of Grande Prairie and the Community Foundations of Northwestern Alberta.

BUSINESS ADVANTAGE

OPEN FOR BUSINESS

Grande Prairie's vibrant economy has developed with years of steady growth. The City is in an enviable economic position with high wages and disposable income, a local real estate market that remains affordable and plenty of opportunity for growth and diversification.

Strong resource markets in agriculture, forestry and oil and gas are the foundation of our strong economy. Many energetic, business-minded people are capitalizing on a business climate like no other. Grande Prairie is a place that embraces entrepreneurship, innovation and new ideas.

OPPORTUNITY FOR GROWTH

At a population of nearly 70,000, Grande Prairie is one of the youngest and fastest growing cities in North America. Grande Prairie has long proven itself as resourceful and entrepreneurial.

A DIVERSE ECONOMIC PORTFOLIO

Grande Prairie is best known for its oil and gas activity, however, it is home to a wide range of industries. This business-savvy community is consistently recognized by the Canadian Federation of Independent Business as one of the most entrepreneurial communities in Canada, an ambition that can be seen across all of the city's major industries. The city boasts over 3000 businesses, with new businesses opening annually.

Energy

Grande Prairie is well positioned as the major oil field service centre supporting both the Montney and the Duvernay, two of the largest players of shale formation in North America. Output from the Montney has doubled since 2012 and now comprises a third of Western Canada's natural gas production. By 2040, it is projected to make up more than half of the country's production. Grande Prairie-based companies service oil and natural gas activities in northwestern Alberta, northeastern British Columbia and into the Northwest Territories. Local companies are also actively exploring clean energy sources, such as hydrogen.

Agriculture

Agriculture remains an important part of the Grande Prairie region. Almost four million hectares of farmland in the Peace Country produce wheat, barley, hay, canola and alfalfa. Grande Prairie's world-renowned creeping red fescue helps keep lawns, parks and golf courses green across North America.

Forestry

Grande Prairie's forestry industry is one of the most important engines in the region with four large operators - Weyerhaeuser, International Paper, Canfor and West Fraser. While it is unusual to see such a concentration of major operators in a city of Grande Prairie's size, these operations are among the most competitive in Canada and the top industrial employers in the region. Northwestern Alberta produces 40% of Alberta's pulp, 64% of its oriented strand board (OSB) and 50% of its timber.

Retail

As a regional hub, Grande Prairie has established itself as a lucrative market for local and multi-national retailers. The city is the centre of an affluent region consisting of a trading area of nearly 300,000 people representing $5.1 billion in retail spending. Retail spending and demand for new stores continue to be supported by the young, fast-growing population.

The current retail inventory of the city is 3.8 million square feet, including major retailers such as Costco, Home Depot, Canadian Tire, Best Buy, Rona and HomeSense.

Tourism

Tourism has become an important industry for the area with attractions like the Eastlink Centre and the Philip J. Currie Dinosaur Museum adding to the draw of the region's natural beauty. Thanks to Grande Prairie's position on the scenic route to the Alaska Highway and the many shopping and recreational opportunities that the city has to offer, Grande Prairie has become a hub for shoppers and tourists alike.

The Benefits of Yard Waste

From your curb to the Landfill, we're using yard waste to create energy!

 Producing an average of 15.2 million kwh of electricity on landfill gas alone annually - which is enough energy to power 14,000 homes per year.	 Producing approximately 33,000 GJ of heat annually, on landfill gas alone - which is enough to heat 200 homes per year.	 Improving air quality, and reducing odors at the landfill by minimizing the surface emission of methane gas.
 GREENHOUSE GASES This significantly reduces greenhouse gas (GHG) emissions as well as utility costs, while improving air quality.	 Emissions are reduced by approximately 63,000 tonnes annually, equivalent to removing 13,500 vehicles from the road each year.	 Revenue from carbon offset credits earned from reducing our environmental footprint, combined with cost-savings from generating our own heat and power, provides us with an opportunity to stabilize rates for Aquatera customers.

Our Drinking Water Safety Plan ensures the safety of drinking water through the use of a proactive, comprehensive risk assessment, and risk management approach. This plan encompasses all aspects of our system including water source, treatment, storage, and distribution to ensure the delivery of clean, safe, reliable water. Our goal is to meet or exceed government standards, while educating our customers and communities on drinking water safety.
